Manuscripts in the Delaware language, presented to the public library of the University at Cambridge by Honorable Ebenezer Lane of the Class of 1811, late Chief Justice of the State of Ohio.

*.* The above is the inscription on a trunk containing the following manuscripts:—

1. Zeisberger, David. Indian Dictionary, English, German, Iroquois [Onondaga], and Algonquin [Delaware].

Mr. Everett has written in pencil in the volume :

"A dictionary in four languages, viz. English, German, Onondaga, and Delaware. The English and Onondaga appear to be in one hand; the German is in another, Luckenbach's; the Delaware, I believe, in Zeisberger's."

The ms. has been printed under the title: Zeisberger's Indian Dictionary, English, German, Iroquois — the Onondaga, and Algonquin — the Delaware. Printed from the original manuscript in Harvard College Library (Cambridge, 1887). It was edited by Professor Eben Norton Horsford, who says in his preface that the Delaware is of the Minis dialect; and that the print represents the ms. "as nearly as type would permit."

The original is in three columns, the English and German being combined in one column. In the print the two are given in separate columns.

*. Zeisberger's Essay of an Onondaga grammar, or a short Introduction to learn the Onondaga-Almaga tongue is in Pennsylvania Mag. of History, 1888.

2. "An Harmony of the Four Gospels, by David Zeisberger. The author's own copy." E. Lane.

Everett adds: "In the Delaware language. Judge Lane says: He kewelder says that the printing of this was undertaken; but I think it never was executed."

Mr. Sibley adds in a note: "This is not Zeisberger; but Zeisberger's translation of Lieberkühn's Harmony of the Gospels. Amer. Philosoph. Transactions, iii., n. s., p. 87."

Another ms. note says: "This was printed by Daniel Fanshaw in New York, 1821, pp. vii., 222, in duodecimo. Retranslated, so as to conform to the present idiom of the language, by I. D. Blanchard, and printed in pp. 221, duodecimo, at the Shawanoe Baptist Mission, 1837, J. Meeker, printer."

The Indian title reads: Elekup Nihillalquonk wook Pemanschalquonk Jesus Christ, sek'i ta lauchsitup Wohgidhakamike. The preface is signed: "Kimachtowa D. Zeisberger, Muskingum Goshenink, May 23, 1806."

Bound with it is a vocabulary in four volumes, headed respectively: English, Maqua, Delaware, Malikan.

5. Phrases and Vocabularies, — as inscribed by Everett.

6. A Delaware Grammar, — as inscribed by Everett.

See Amer. Philosoph. Society's Transactions, iii., n. s., 87.

15. Delaware Vocabulary, — as inscribed by Everett. Marked by Lane: A vocabulary of Delaware language, presented by the Rev. Mr. Grube to the Rev. Mr. Luckenbach on his setting out upon his western missionary journey in 1800.

Another note says: A present from B. A. Grube, the missionary referred to by Loskiel in his History of the United Brethren among the North American Indians, to Abraham Luckenbach, on his setting out as a young missionary in 1800.

The German presentation, "Dem lieben Bruder Abraham Luckenbach," is signed by Grube, "geb. d. 21 Juny, 1715," and dated "Bethlehem, d. 12 Octr. 1800."

16. Grammar of the Arrawack language, — as inscribed by Everett.

See Adelung's Mithridates, iii., p. 686 et seq.

A statement signed, "Stephan Pfeiffer, a. 1799," gives the authorship to "Br. Schuman."

A note reads: "I know nothing of Pfeiffer, who seems to have written [i. e. transcribed] this work, nor am I aware that Lawatsch [who is mentioned in Pfeiffer's statement] was ever a missionary in South America; but Schuman, the author, is well known in our missionary accounts. He was the first missionary to South America who had received a classical education, and was sent in 1765 with a view to acquire a better knowledge of the language of the Arawacka Indians, with which the missionaries had found much difficulty."

The reports of the President, Treasurer, and Committees on the Botanic Garden and on the Law School were presented and referred to the Committee on Reports and Resolutions.

Adjourned to January 23, 1889.

MEETING OF JANUARY 30, 1889. — Concurred with the President and Fellows in the appointment of HON. DAVID A. WELLS as lecturer on the principles of taxation for the current academic year.

Dr. PEABODY'S resolution, introduced at a previous meeting, approving the present system of religious services, was adopted.

1. That in the opinion of this Board it is expedient that every undergraduate be required to report in person early every morning, with a moderate and fixed allowance for occasional absences.
2. That attendance at the exercises of each course be more rigidly enforced.
3. That the system of advisers, somewhat as applied to special students, be extended to the Freshman Class.
4. That the reports of the presence or absence of students be collected daily by monitors, and daily entered in the book.
5. That no choice of studies made by a student be valid, if it call for more than three lectures or recitations on any day of the week, unless the choice has been specially allowed by the Dean.
6. That in order to make it more difficult for students to prepare by a brief period of "cramming" to meet the tests applied, the Faculty require all instructors to provide tests of the progress of their students with sufficient frequency to enable them to enforce effectively section seven of the Regulations.
7. That admonition be administered by the Dean or by his sole authority, and that the powers of that officer be so enlarged, at whatever increased expense it may be necessary to incur, that the records of attendance may always be ready for inspection by the proper officers.

Voted, That the Faculty be asked to prepare and report a series of rules which, in their judgment, will give practical effect to these recommendations.

In the affirmative: ROGER WOLCOTT, LINCOLN, F. M. WELD, HODGES, S. M. WELD, COOLIDGE, LEE, SARGENT, R. S. PEABODY, PUTNAM, F. C. LOWELL, TORREY, RUSSELL, GREEN, BEAMAN, HEMENWAY — 16.

The Report of the Committee on Mathematics, Physics, and Chemistry was presented.

MEETING OF APRIL 10, 1889. — Voted, to approve the additions and amendments to the Regulations of the Faculty in February and March, and request that the same be put into operation as soon as possible.

Voted, that the Overseers, desiring not now to insist upon measures which do not meet the approbation of the Faculty, request that rules shall be prepared by the Faculty which shall secure the daily attendance of the students in Cambridge, by requiring that each student shall be present at least at one college exercise in each week day, with fixed allowances for occasional absences.

Two graduates of American colleges have outlived M. Chevreul. Rev. John Sawyer, Dartmouth, 1785, was born 9 October, 1755, and died 14 October, 1858, aged 103 years, 5 days. He received the degree of D.D. from Dartmouth in 1857, when 102 years of age. But the oldest college graduate in this country known to the writer was Nathan Birds-eye, Yale, 1736, who was born 19 August, 1714, and died 23 January, 1818, aged 103 years, 5 months, 9 days.

SUPPLEMENT.

* * This Supplement contains the titles of such books, received since May, 1885 (when the foregoing list began to be printed), as could not be included in that list while it was passing through the press. It also contains some references accidentally omitted in the main list and the titles of some articles to be found in works belonging to other divisions of the Library which were overlooked at first. Therefore some of the references here refer to entries in the main list, while many of the references from editors, etc., in that list, refer to titles in this Supplement.

The numbering of titles has been made to correspond strictly with the numbering previously used in the main body of the catalogue.

The portrait here reproduced by an etching is a miniature in the Riccardi codex 1040. It was considered by Gaet. Milanesi and Luigi Passerini, who were appointed by the Italian government in 1865 to investigate and pass judgment on the various portraits of Dante, to be the most authentic of all, and it was copied by Giov. Dupré for the commemorative medal struck at that time, but remained inedited and comparatively unknown until it was published in the second edition of Talice da Ricaldone's comment issued by Hoepli in 1888. The plate given here is the same as that published by Hoepli. In an appendix the official reports of Milanesi and Passerini are reprinted.

"BOSTON, June 22, 1889.

TO THE PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE:—

GENTLEMEN,—In May, 1868, the sum of $3000 was subscribed by thirty gentlemen to establish 'A Fund for lectures at Cambridge in connection with Harvard College on the practical affairs of business, the mutual relations of capital and labor, and the development of national resources.'

This fund has been administered by the late Mr. J. INGERSOLL BOWDITCH and myself, as a Committee of the subscribers, in accordance with a plan approved by the President and Fellows and Board of Overseers, and set forth in a letter from us to the Corporation, dated January 26, 1877. Under this plan, the sum of $2350 has been paid by the Committee for the compensation of lecturers.

I now desire, as the sole member of that Committee, having full authority therefor, to transfer this fund to you, in trust, to hold and expend the same for the purposes and upon the conditions following, namely:—

The President and Fellows shall, with the consent of the Board of Overseers, appoint from time to time lecturers on any of the subjects above named, excepting the question between Protective Duties and Free Trade.

The President and Fellows shall fix the compensation of the lecturers, and may use for this purpose the income and the capital of the fund, provided that they shall not expend therefrom more than $2000 in any one year.

The investment of the fund is now in $4650 United States four per cent bonds, and a deposit in the New England Trust Company.

Inasmuch as the plan upon which the fund has been administered was prepared upon the suggestion and with the approval of the President and Fellows and the Board of Overseers, this modification of it should also, in my judgment, have the sanction of both Boards.

Upon receiving an attested copy of this letter from the Records of the President and Fellows and of their vote accepting this trust, and also an attested copy of a vote of the Board of Overseers approving of the change of plan, I will dispose of the United States four per cent bonds, and pay to the Treasurer of the College the entire fund in cash, to be invested with the general funds of the College, subject to the foregoing provisions.

I enclose a list of the subscriptions to the original fund.

I am, very respectfully yours,

(Signed)

WILLIAM GRAY."

This manuscript, purchased by the library through Prof. C. R. Gregory of Leipzig, consists of 295 parchment leaves, measuring 21.7 cm. by 15.2, and having one column on a page, 23 or 24 lines to a column. It is neatly written, in black ink, the letters depending from the ruled lines, capitals in vermilion, initials and headings of the Gospels ornamented, and each Gospel preceded by a (badly blemished) portrait of the evangelist. The chapters and chapter-headings are given in vermilion, and a table of them is prefixed to each Gospel. A later scribe, of the 14th century, has supplied sundry lacunae, viz. John iii. 4-18; v. 12-vi. 7; vii. 2-xxi. 25. The church reading-lessons are also noted by a later hand in the latter part of John.

It is numbered 666 by Prof. Gregory, and described by him in his forthcoming Prolegomena to Tischendorf's Greek Testament, "editio octava critica maior," vol. iii. p. 565.

CLASSIFICATIONS OF THE BULLETIN. Beginning with number 18 of the Bulletin, library accessions have been classed under separate heads, for greater convenience to those following special studies. As the headings are brief some of the subjects which fall under each (other than those which are perfectly apparent) are here indicated.

Works of a (1) General and miscellaneous nature come first, including bibliography, biographical reference books library economy and history, and works on books and reading. This heading is followed by (2) Theology and philosophy, under which are placed both general and physiological psychology, ecclesiastical and biblical subjects, ethics and ethnic religions. (3) Science embraces medicine, veterinary science, pseudo-science, and magic. (4) Useful arts includes all forms of industrial science, manufactures and handicrafts, the combative arts, agriculture, landscape-gardening, building (but not architecture), navigation, and aeronautics. (5) Fine arts embraces music, the archaeology of art and numismatics. (6) Antiquities (including folk-lore) takes other departments of archaeology; popular ballads and tales, as well as mediæval romances, find their place here, while ballads not of popular origin appear under the final head; here too are placed anthropology and ethnology. The scope of (7) History and geography (including politics and general biography) is sufficiently indicated by its title, but it should be explained that biographies of artists should be looked for under Fine arts, of astronomers under Science, etc.; genealogies and heraldry also fall here. Under (8) Law and sociology appear statistics, commerce, finance, political economy, jurisprudence, reforms, charities, education, public morality and hygiene, and public works, together with manners and customs, sports and games. (9) Philology embraces all departments, not only of language, but also of classical and oriental studies, excepting such as more properly fall under the second and sixth heads. Palæography also is placed under this heading. Finally, (10) Literature includes elocution and rhetoric.

NOTES ON THE MS. VOLUME OF SHELLEY'S POEMS

IN THE

LIBRARY OF HARVARD COLLEGE.

By GEORGE EDWARD WOODBERRY.

This volume was given to the Library by Mr. Edward A. Silsbee, who received it from a lady in Florence closely connected with the Shelleys. It is a thin quarto bound in parchment. Many leaves have been cut out, but the titles of the missing poems are supplied by an index at the end. It was plainly a copy-book and not intended for use in original composition. The aim of the following notes is to place before students of the text of Shelley the variations which this volume supplies from the text of Forman's edition, London, 1876. Words in the ms. differing from the Forman text are in italics; if the variations are of another character, they are not indicated by difference of type. In disputed passages, when no information is given below, it is to be understood that Forman's text is sustained by the ms. Variations in pointing and capitalizing are, as a rule, not noted; neither are the cancelled readings. Forman's titles, when differing from those in the ms., are printed in italics between parentheses.

A facsimile of the draft of The Skylark constitutes No. 30 of the series of BIBLIOGRAPHICAL CONTRIBUTIONS, and is here reproduced.

Pages 1-46: cut out.

47-60: THE SENSITIVE PLANT. Pisa, March,
1820. Shelley's hand.

Part I.; lines 29-33, do not occur.

47, glide or dance
49, lawn and moss
82, And the plumèd
83, in a sunny sea

Part II. 23, the going (Mrs. Shelley's reading)

59, Through all the sweet

Part III. 23, mist of morning
28, And lilies were drooping

white and wan
30, Leaf by leaf, day after day
63, mists

66-69, struck out.

100, and their sudden flight from the frost

102, Under the roots

Conclusion. Not divided from the preceding.

1, And if the
5, Or if that

Note, Part III., line 30. Shelley's edition reads "Leaf after leaf, day after day." Mrs. Shelley's editions substitute by for the second after. Mr. Swinburne (Essays and Studies, p. 186) supports this reading as probably correct.

Forman cites the parallel lines in Rosalind and Helen, "But day by day, week after week," and "And hour by hour, day after day." The reading afforded by the ms., being identical with these, and more melodious than that of Mrs. Shelley, may safely be accepted. Lines 66-69; similarly omitted in Mrs. Shelley's editions, but restored in Forman and Rossetti in the absence of ms. authority for the omission. This authority is now found.

Pages 61-68: A VISION OF THE SEA. Pisa, April, 1820. Mrs. Shelley's hand; the date, Shelley's hand.

Line 8, sunk (Mrs. Shelley's reading)

35, by the waters

37, sits

38, crew who

87, the smiling disguise

160, grasps it convulsively

Note. The past tenses are not contracted, and the spelling tyger is used. See Forman, ii., p. 281, note 1; p. 282, note 1.

Pages 69-70: TO NIGHT. Mrs. Shelley's hand.

Line 1, o'er the western wave

Page 71: AN ANACREONTIC (Love's Philosophy).

Florence, January, 1820. Shelley's hand.

Line 3, melt together

15, were these examples worth

Note. The poem was first published in The Indicator, Dec. 22, 1819. The present ms. version differs from that of The Indicator, as above, and also in lines 11 and 12, in which it has the later form. It would naturally be thought that the readings above were earlier than these of The Indicator, but the date, January, 1820, is against that view, and in the ms. the word all is written before "these examples" and crossed out, as if the common reading were in the mind of the writer and had been rejected, or else the reading, "all this sweet work," which occurs in the Stacey ms. in Leigh Hunt's Literary Pocket-Book for 1819, given by Shelley to Miss Sophia Stacey, Dec. 29, 1820.

Pages 72-75: cut out.

Pages 76-77: AN EXHORTATION. Pisa, April, 1820. Shelley's hand.

Line 10, in

Note. The date sustains Rossetti's suggestion that this was the poem sent to Mrs. Gisborne by Shelley, May 8, 1820. (Shelley Memorials, p. 141).

Pages 78-80: ODE TO HEAVEN. Florence, December, 1819. Shelley's hand.

Pages 81-83: SONG (Rarely, rarely, comest thou). Pisa, May, 1820. Mrs. Shelley's hand; date, Shelley's hand.

Pages 84-86: A DREAM (The Question). Mrs. Shelley's hand.

Line 14, enclosed in parentheses.

15, Heaven's collected

31, punctuate, And bulrushes and reeds,

Page 87: ODE TO LIBERTY. Shelley's hand.

Lines 1-3, A glorious people vibrated again

The lightning of the Nations—

Liberty

From heart etc.

4, unto the sky

10, Heaven

11, the spirit's whirlwind wrapt it

15, Deep. I

16, moon

17, Abyss

18, Heaven

19, Island

Note. The poem ends with line 21, and is crossed out. The punctuation of the opening lines, however, is important in view of Forman's emendation, and the use of capitals (not elsewhere noticed in this paper) is an instructive example of Shelley's habit with regard to them.

Page 90: THE INDIAN SERENADE. Shelley's hand.

Line 3, The winds

4, burning (The Liberal reading)

7, Has borne (Mrs. Shelley reads has led, 1824)

11, The champak odours (Mrs. Shelley's reading, 1824)

15, As I must die on thine (Mrs. Shelley's reading, 1839)

16, Oh, beloved as thou art (Mrs. Shelley's reading, 1839)

17, Oh.

23, it close to thine again (Mrs. Shelley's reading, 1824)

Note. The text of this poem is much disputed. Forman derives his reading in lines 11, 16, 23, from a ms. found on Shelley's person after his death and deciphered by Browning; the same source gives hath for has in line 7, agreeing with the first published version, The Liberal, no. ii., 1822. In line 15, die is omitted by The Liberal and by Mrs. Shelley's edition, 1824, but is restored by her in 1839. Rossetti rejects the Browning readings. A ms. copy, given by Shelley to Miss Sophia Stacey in 1819, is said to be extant, but there is no account of it, further than that Rossetti mentions seeing a copy of it.

Pages 91-92: SONG (Remembrance). Shelley's hand.

Line 5, As the earth when leaves are dead

6, sped

7, fled

10, her reign

Note. Forman's text is from a ms. in Shelley's hand on the fly-leaf of a copy of Adonais, then owned by Lord Houghton. Rossetti describes a ms., also in Shelley's hand, sent to Mrs. Williams; he received it from Trelawney. The present ms. is Mrs. Shelley's text, and seems intermediate between the other two.

Pages 92-93: TO WILLIAM ("My lost William"). Shelley's hand.

Motto: with what truth may I say—

Line 16, Of sweet flowers.

Pages 94-97: cut out.

Pages 98-99: blank.

Pages 100-105: TO A SKYLARK. See Facsimile given herewith.

Note. Line 15: the reading unbodied disposes of the much disputed emendation, embodied, and sustains the original editions.

Pages 106-109: SONG (To the Men of England), torn out, except a small portion on which may be read two or three words of stanzas 4 and 8.

Pages 109 (duplicate)-145: HYMN TO MERCURY. Translated from the Greek of Homer. Mrs. Shelley's hand.

Stanza 3, line 7, in his

13, 5, Ocean spray

14, 5, Piera's

- 29, 7, will not
 31, 4, depth
 32, 7, neighbor
 43, 3, hurt
     5, or your
 53, 3, purpose; as
 61, 3, or
 62, 6, in great ruth
 74, 2, heifer-killing
 77, 7, As now. I
 85, 7, as of an adept
 93, 5, mist
 96, 7, from death
 97, 2, covered their love with joy
     5, wandering far

Note. The reading in stanza 43, line 3, is a valuable restoration, and several others are worth consideration; that in 97, line 2, especially, seems to settle a difficult point satisfactorily. In stanza 62 it is interesting to compare Rossetti, iii., p. 429, note; here all editions have wrath for ruth, and Rossetti observes: "The rhyming of 'wrath' with 'untruth' is an ultra-Shelleyan audacity; there is no opening for a suspicion of misprinting." The sense requires 'wrath,' it is true; but the word 'ruth' is written in this ms. It may be remarked also, in stanza 93, that the spelling mist for missed in Mrs. Shelley's edition, on which Forman annotates, iv., p. 180, note 1, may have been in consequence of the rhymes above; but it is also possibly due to the cramping of the word into a small space at the lower outside corner of the page, as this ms. shows it.

Pages 145 (duplicate)-148: TO THE LORD CHANCELLOR. Shelley's hand.

Line 50, snarcs and arts

60, soul is (Mrs. Shelley's reading in two copies written by her, but not in her editions)

Note. This poem is the only one which shows signs of being composed on the page itself; it is much erased and interlined, and two stanzas, 7 and 8, which the poet found it impossible to shape in their place, are left in confusion and afterwards added at the end in fair script.

Pages 149-150: ENGLAND (Lines written during the Castlereagh administration). Shelley's hand.

Line 4. death-white

18, festival din (Mrs. Shelley's reading)

25, the ("thy" altered) (Mrs. Shelley's reading)

Note. In line 4, death is added above the line. The same correction, with others, was adopted by Rossetti from a later ms. in Shelley's hand purchased for an American collector at a sale in 1874.

Page 150: SONG (Good-Night). Shelley's hand.

Note. Rossetti gives a different version, derived from the Stacey ms. in the Literary Pocket-Book already mentioned.

Page 151: SONNET ("Ye hasten to the dead"). Hand different from the others.

Line 7, must go

8, would know

Note. See Forman, iv., p. 572, and Rossetti, iii., p. 408, for an account of a later ms.

Page 152: SONNET, TO THE REPUBLIC OF BENEVENTO (Political Greatness). Shelley's hand.

Line 6, its pageant

Note. No explanation of the title has been found.

Pages 153-158: BALLAD. YOUNG PARSON RICHARDS. Mrs. Shelley's hand; corrections, Shelley's hand.

Note. This is an unpublished poem of twenty-one stanzas of four lines each, except the first, which has five lines. It is entirely valueless in itself and unconstructive with respect either to Shelley or to the growth of his poetical genius.

Page 159: INDEX, ending on inside of opposite cover. The titles of missing poems thus supplied are as follows, Forman's substitute-titles being italicized:

30: The Mask of Anarchy

38: To S[idmou]th and C[astlereag]h
 (Similes for Two Political Characters of 1819)

39: E . . . d (Sonnet: England in 1819?)

40: An Ode (Ode written October, 1819?)

42: Translation from Moschus (Pan, Echo and the Satyr)

43: A Fragment

72: Lines written at Naples

75: Sonnet ("Lift not the painted veil"?)

88-90: contents not given, possibly blank.

106: To —, a sonnet (Lines to a Reviewer?)

Men of England, a song.

109: To —

145: To L[or]d E[ldo]n

Note. Of the poems now contained in this volume, six were published by Shelley with Prometheus Unbound. They were The Sensitive Plant, A Vision of the Sea, An Exhortation, Ode to Heaven, To a Skylark, and Ode to Liberty; the first three are marked published in the ms. Of the remainder, all were published by Mrs. Shelley in the Posthumous Poems, 1824, except To the Lord Chancellor, and England (Lines written during the Castlereagh Administration). Of the poems shown by the Index to be missing, Maddalo and Julian and Lines written at Naples were also published in the same volume. It may safely be conjectured that the Translation from Moschus is the one so entitled in the same volume, and that the two sonnets, not further entitled, are "Lift not the painted veil" and "Alas, good friend" (Lines to a Reviewer), which directly follow "Ye hasten to the dead" and Political Greatness, also in the same volume. "Alas, good friend" is but thirteen lines and the rhymes are not in sonnet form; but the title To —, a sonnet, would give Mrs. Shelley's authority for calling the poem a sonnet; and, in the absence of any other piece answering to this title and belonging to the period of the ms., it is altogether likely that this is the one referred to. The four sonnets published by Mrs. Shelley in 1824 would then be all in this list. To — and A Fragment may be any of several pieces so entitled in the Posthumous Poems.

It appears, therefore, that all the poems originally in this volume were published by Mrs. Shelley in 1824, except those which had previously appeared with Prometheus Unbound and those which were political. Of these last, the Masque of Anarchy was published by Leigh Hunt in 1832; England (Lines written during the Castlereagh administration), and To S[idmou]th and C[astlereagh] (Similes for two Political Characters of 1819) were published by Medwin, Shelley Papers, 1833, reprinted from The Athenaeum, 1832. Mrs. Shelley included in her collected editions of 1839 the above (with variations in the first two), and added To the Lord Chancellor and Song to the Men of England; she also then published the Sonnet, England in 1819, conjectured here to be that indexed as E . . . d. The "Ode," if a slight conjecture may be based on the grouping by Mrs. Shelley, may be that entitled by her To the Assertors of Liberty (Ode written October, 1819), originally published with Prometheus Unbound, or possibly the National Anthem, published in the second edition of 1839.

It is possible that Mrs. Shelley used this ms. volume for the Posthumous Poems, 1824, and excluded from her collection at that time the political pieces; or she may have derived from it only material for her editions of 1839; or she may have used it upon both occasions. The fact that her exact dates affixed to poems in the edition of 1824 are the same with those in this ms., support the view that she then had access to it. It may not be superfluous to add that her variations from Hunt's later and better ms. of Julian and Maddalo would be explained by this means without the need of supposing that she "edited" the text unadvisedly or carelessly; the date affixed by her, Rome, May, 1819, would also be justified, since these dates are all apparently not those of composition but of entry in the volume. Similar considerations apply to her variations from Hunt in the text of The Masque of Anarchy. The ms. of that poem, which is missing from this volume and which Mrs. Shelley may have used, is apparently not that facsimiled by the Shelley Society in its Publications. Whether this ms. volume was a source of Mrs. Shelley's text or not, it nearly represents it, and is interesting as tending to establish her fidelity to Shelley's mss. and to increase the authority of her text, when it is not superseded by that of mss. later than those in her possession.

Our sincerest laughter
With some pain is fraught
Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought.

Yet if we could scorn
Hate & pride & fear;
If we were things so born
Not to shed a tear
I know not how thy joy we ever should attain

Better than all me comes
Of delightful sound -

Better than all treasure

That in books are found.

My skill to poet was - then corner of the ground?

It teach me half the gladness

That thy brain must know

Such <sup>best</sup> harmonious madness

From my lips I hear thee

So with such in ten then - as I am writing now

Colombo (Lat. COLUMBUS), Cristoforo. The letter in Spanish written on his return from his first voyage, and addressed to Luis de Sant Angel, 15 Feb.-14 March. 1493, announcing the discovery of the New World. Reproduced in facsimile from a unique copy in the possession of the publishers [Ellis & Elvey]; with introductory & critical remarks (by Julia E. S. Rae), accompanied by a revised Spanish version, and a literal translation into English. London. 1889. 4°. pp. 47+(8). Port. *1373.67

A contemporary manuscript copy of this first Spanish letter was found by Navarrete at Simancas and is printed by him in his Collection, though Harriass questions if it represents the text as Columbus wrote it. Another early copy, substantially the same, though addressed to Sanchez, was later found in the Colegio Mayor de Cuenca, and was printed by Varin hagen in 1858. The earliest discovered printed copy came to light in 1862, when it was added to the Biblioteca Ambrosiana at Milan. It was printed in 1493, apparently in Spain or Portugal. No other copy of this edition has ever been found, and it was reprinted at Milan in 1863, and in facsimile in 1866. This was for a long time the only resource for scholars who sought to use the original Spanish text, presumably as Columbus wrote it; but within a year two other contemporary editions have been discovered in a single copy each. One of them, in four quarto leaves, is mentioned above. Experts in early Spanish typography have supposed it to have been printed at Burgos, or possibly at Salamanca. This and the Ambrosian edition seem to have been set up, one from the other, or possibly from some anterior edition. The other newly-found Spanish edition was discovered in Spain, and is printed in folio on two leaves. The Paris dealer who possesses it has offered it at 65,000 francs, and has issued a facsimile of it.

A few years ago Bergenroth found another text at Simancas, substantially the same, but purporting to be addressed to a friend of Columbus. Bergenroth gave a full abstract of it in the Calendar of state papers relating to England and Spain. If we add to these several texts, that which is contained in Andrés Bernaldez's Historia de los reyes católicos (not printed till 1856 at Granada, and at Seville in 1870), we have all the varieties of the first account of his voyage, which Columbus wrote in different letters, which are essentially alike. Bernaldez is known to have had papers put in his hands by Columbus, and is thought to have placed bodily in his text a draft of the letter which he may have received from the Admiral himself. Attempts have been made by Varnhagen and others to collate all these texts, except the two last discovered, to discover if possible by critical comparison what may be considered the true text. The attempts have not agreed with each other.

Scholars have usually used, however, the Latin text, and it was inferred, prior to 1862, from the absence of any Spanish edition — for up to that date none had been discovered — either that there had been some prohibition of printing the Spanish original, or that there had been less popular interest in the discovery in Spain than there was in Italy and Central Europe, where there were four editions of this Latin text in Rome, three in Paris, and one in Antwerp, all issued in 1493-94. There was no German edition till 1497, and then it was given in the German tongue. There are copies of those Latin editions in several American libraries, and one sold in New York in the Barlow library in Feb. 1890 passed into the Boston Public Library.

My daughter, Miss MARY L. WARE, and I, offer for your acceptance a collection of glass-models of plants, flowers, and analytical details of vegetable structure, now in process of construction by the well-known artists Leopold and Rudolf Blaschka, of Germany.

A contract for the construction of the models was arranged and signed in Dresden, in April last, by L. and R. We assume in full the responsibilities regarding payments of the sums mentioned in the contract, and we shall provide the necessary amounts on the dates specified. It is our intention to defray all the expenses of shipment of the models to Cambridge, and we shall further provide for their proper exhibition in the University Museum. The collection was begun two years ago, and will require for its completion ten (10) years from July of the present year.

It will gratify my daughter and myself if you will accept the collection as a memorial of the late Dr. CHARLES ELIOT WARE, of the Class of 1834.

The resignation of WILLIAM F. WHITNEY, M.D., as Secretary of the Medical Faculty was received and accepted to take effect September 1, 1890.

The resignation of ROBERT W. GREENLEAF, M.D., as Assistant in Histology and Embryology was received and accepted.

Voted, to substitute the following Statutes, numbered 1, 5, 6, 7, 9, and 12, for the present Statutes of the University bearing the same numbers :—

1. THE UNIVERSITY. Harvard University comprehends the following departments: Harvard College, the Lawrence Scientific School, the Graduate School, the Divinity School, the Law School, the Medical School, the Dental School, the School of Veterinary Medicine, the Bussey Institution (a School of Agriculture), the University Library, the Museum of Comparative Zoölogy, the University Museum, the Botanic Garden, the Herbarium, and the Astronomical Observatory. The Peabody Museum of American Archaeology and Ethnology is a constituent part of the University; but its relations to the University are affected by peculiar provisions.

5. UNIVERSITY COUNCIL. The University Council consists of the President, Professors, and Assistant Professors of the University and such other University officials as the Corporation with the consent of the Overseers may appoint members of the Council. It is the function of the Council to consider questions which concern more than one Faculty, and questions of University policy.

6. FACULTIES. Harvard College, the Lawrence Scientific School, and the Graduate School are together under the immediate charge of a Faculty,—the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The other Schools of the University are each under the immediate charge of a Faculty. Each Faculty is composed of all the Professors, Assistant Professors and Tutors, and of all the Instructors appointed for a term longer than one year, who teach in the department or departments under the charge of that Faculty. The President is a member of each Faculty.

A Faculty may, at its discretion, delegate any of its powers relating to ordinary matters of administration and discipline, except the power to inflict the penalties of dismissal and expulsion, to Administrative Boards, nominated from among its members by the President, and appointed by the Corporation with the consent of the Overseers. Every such Board shall be subject to the authority of the Faculty from which it is appointed. Any Administrative Board established for Harvard College shall consist of not less than fifteen members.

7. DEANS. Each Faculty has a Dean, who is appointed by the Corporation, with the consent of the Overseers, from among the members of the Faculty. Harvard College, the Lawrence Scientific School, and the Graduate School also have each a Dean, who is appointed by the Corporation, with the consent of the Overseers, from among the members of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Each Dean is the chief executive officer of his Faculty, College, or School, is responsible for the proper preparation and conduct of its business, and makes an annual report to the President.

9. DEGREES. The ordinary degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts, Civil Engineer, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Science, Bachelor of Divinity, Bachelor of Laws, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Dental Medicine, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, and Bachelor of Agricultural Science are conferred, after recommendation by the several Faculties, by vote of the Corporation, with the consent of the Overseers. It is required that no candidate for the ordinary degrees be recommended, except after thorough public examination, and a residence at the University of at least one year. There are four grades of the degree of Bachelor of Arts, two grades of the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, and three grades of the degree of Bachelor of Science. Honorary degrees are conferred by vote of the Corporation, with the consent of the Overseers. The degrees conferred by the University are announced at Commencement.

12. DISCIPLINE. The several Faculties have authority to impose fines and levy assessments for damage done to property; to inflict, at their discretion, the penalties of admonition, suspension, dismissal, and expulsion; and to use all other appropriate means of discipline; but no student shall be dismissed or expelled from the University except by a vote of at least two thirds of the members of his Faculty present and voting thereon. Suspension is a separation from the University for a fixed period of time. It may be accompanied with a requirement of residence in a specified place, and of the performance of specified tasks. Dismissal closes a student's connection with the University, without necessarily precluding his return. Expulsion is the highest academic censure, and is a final separation from the University.

Voted, to communicate the foregoing vote to the Board of Overseers that they may consent thereto if they see fit.

Boylston Prizes for Elocution were awarded as follows: First prizes to W. E. B. Du Bois, Senior; and H. E. BURTON, Senior. Second prizes to GEORGE B. HENSHAW, Senior; FREDERIC S. GOODWIN, Junior; HARVEY H. BAKER, Junior.

MEETING OF MAY 26, 1890. — Voted, that the thanks of the President and Fellows be sent to Mrs. HENRY DRAPER of New York for her additional gift of $800, received May 14, 1890, towards the expenses at the Observatory of Harvard University on account of the Draper Memorial.

The Treasurer reported that he had received through Mr. SAMUEL S. SHAW, Secretary of the Class of 1853, the sum of $100 to be added to the Fund of the Class of 1853.

Notice was received from Dr. LYON of a gift to the Semitic Department of thirteen volumes of the Journal of the Oriental Society from Mr. EPES S. DIXWELL, and it was Voted, that the thanks of the President and Fellows therefor be sent to Mr. DIXWELL.

Voted, to appoint FRANK BIGELOW TARBELL, Ph.D., Instructor in Greek and Latin.

Voted, to appoint PHILIPPE BELKNAP MARCOU, Ph.D., Tutor in French for three years from September 1, 1890.

Voted, to appoint MAX POLL, Ph.D., Instructor in German for 1890-91.

MEETING OF JUNE 9, 1890. — The President read the following letter:—

"BOSTON, June 5, 1890.

TO THE PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE:—

GENTLEMEN,—The deeds of Miss Willard's estate will be passed to you today, and with them my wish in regard to it. The estate henceforth belongs to the College without any condition or restriction whatsoever, and for use in any way which the Corporation may see fit. My hope is that the ground will be used for the present as a playground for the students, and that in case you should need the ground by and by for other purposes, another playground will be given to the students. But the gift is absolutely without condition of any kind. The only other wish on my part is that the ground shall be called "THE SOLDIER'S FIELD," and marked with a stone bearing the names of some dear friends, alumni of the University, and noble gentlemen, who gave freely and eagerly all that they had or hoped for to their country and to their fellowmen in the hour of great need—the war of 1861 to 1865 in defence of the Republic.

JAMES SAVAGE, JR.
CHARLES RUSSELL LOWELL,
EDWARD BARRY DALTON,
STEPHEN GEORGE PERKINS,
JAMES JACKSON LOWELL,

This is only a wish, not a condition, and moreover it is a happiness to me to serve in any way the College which has done so much for us all.

I am, with much respect,

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

HENRY L. HIGGINSON."

And it was Voted, that this munificent gift be gratefully accepted and that the President and Fellows will carry out to the best of their ability the wishes expressed by the giver.

The President read a letter from Professor GOODALE reporting anonymous gifts of $500 for present use at the Herbarium, and $1500 for present use at the Botanical Garden, and it was Voted, that the thanks of the President and Fellows be sent to the unknown donor through Professor GOODALE.

*III. 5874

This copy, the gift of Prof. James Russell Lowell, was inherited by him from his father, the Rev. Charles Lowell, D.D. (H. C. 1800) whose autograph it bears; and is further interesting from having the autograph of Increase Mather, who, while president of Harvard college, bought it in London in 1691, during his residence there as agent of Massachusetts, charged with the duty of procuring the provincial charter of that colony from William and Mary.

It was by Mather's efforts that his parishioner, Sir Wm. Phips, was made the first governor under that charter, and it was under Phips' administration that the witches were tried at Salem. The fly-leaf of this book shows in Mather's handwriting his references to passages in it, to some of which he has referred in his Cases of conscience in which he calls Webster a "Witch-advocate." Mather was greatly instrumental in furthering the prosecutions of the Salem witches. There is a portrait of Stoughton, the chief justice in the trials, in Memorial Hall.

This book also bears the autograph of Mather Byles, a descendant of Mather. Byles also graduated at Harvard college, and was at one time its librarian.

This warrant, dated March 4, 1674, of which Mr. Thorpe has presented to the Library a very careful fac-simile by Vander Weyde, was bought at the sale of the Chauncy MSS. in London in July, 1887, for a small sum. Its special interest lies in the fact that it determines the date of the period of imprisonment (not certainly known before) during which Bunyan wrote the Pilgrim's progress.

PERIODICAL AND OTHER PUBLICATIONS OF RECENT DATE.

No. 4. 1890.

By WILLIAM COOLIDGE LANE, Assistant Librarian.

* * In continuation of the Index published in January, 1888, and compiled in the same way. The larger number of the following titles refer to books or periodicals published in 1888-90, but a few of earlier date have also been included. I am indebted to Mr. J. L. Whitney, of the Boston Public Library, to Mr. C. H. Hull, formerly of the Cornell University Library, to Mr. G. M.
